Landec Continues Progression of Transformation Plan for Curation Foods, Announcing Agreement to Divest Hanover Manufacturing Operations

SANTA MARIA, Calif., August 25, 2020 -- Landec Corporation (Nasdaq: LNDC) ("Landec" or the "Company"), a diversified health and wellness Company with two operating businesses, Curation Foods, Inc. ("Curation Foods") and Lifecore Biomedical, Inc. ("Lifecore"), announced today the entry into a definitive agreement to sell the Company's Hanover manufacturing facility and related assets for an aggregate purchase price of $8.7 million. The Company intends to consolidate its Hanover facility operations into its facilities in Guadalupe, California and Bowling Green, Ohio.

The agreement to divest the Hanover manufacturing operations is the latest step of Project SWIFT, as the Company continues to focus on creating shareholder value across the enterprise. Project SWIFT is designed to identify opportunities to transform the Company's business with a focus on maximizing strategic assets, optimizing its operational network and rightsizing the organization. The transaction is expected to close in the first week of September, subject to customary closing conditions. As previously announced on August 7, 2020, Landec completed the asset sale and lease assumption of its pre-operational salad dressing manufacturing facility based in Ontario, California for $4.85 million.

"The agreement to sell the Hanover facility announced today, together with the completion of our other previously announced asset sales related to the Curation Foods business, delivers on the Company's commitment to streamline the business by divesting non-strategic assets to help deliver sustainable profitable growth," said Landec's President and CEO Dr. Albert Bolles. "While we recognize that the execution of certain actions associated with Project SWIFT has been challenging in light of the global pandemic, we intend to continue to build on the significant progress made with respect to our value creation plan and remain dedicated to advancing our strategic vision and deleveraging the business under these new conditions."

About Landec Corporation
